Louisiana Delta Ballet brings Festival to Twin Cities

Monroe-West Monroe, LA- Over 800 dancers will travel to Monroe-West Monroe this week for the 52nd Annual Regional Dance America/Southwest Festival “Danse Fleur de Lis”. Dance companies from Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas will join world renowned faculty and dance patrons March 26-28 for a weekend full of instruction, collaboration, and performances. The Louisiana Delta Ballet is the host organization for this event.

“We are honored to host our prestigious Adjudicator, Faculty, Musicians, Directors, Dancers, and Parents for this exciting three day event,” Missy Crain, Artistic Director of the Louisiana Delta Ballet, said.

Dancers will participate in classes, audition for scholarships, and perform three evenings during the festival. These performances are open to the public each night. Tickets to each performance are $25, and the schedule is as follows:

Thursday, March 26	7:00 pm	Emerging Choreographer Concert
Friday, March 27	7:30 pm	Showcase Performance
Saturday, March 28	7:30 pm	Gala Performance

“An event that produces this number of visitors to our community is going to create a great impact on our local economy,” Alana Cooper, Monroe-West Monroe CVB President, said.

This event is one of five regional festivals that will be hosted around the nation. For more information, contact the Louisiana Delta Ballet at 318-345-1155 or visit their website, www.louisianadeltaballet.com.
